

Ever On Your Mind

Words and Music by Heather Schopf

Every hair is numbered; every star is named.
Every sparrow noticed; every teardrop claimed.
All my steps You see; all my days You planned.
All my words You know; all my thoughts You understand.

Knowing this is too wonderful for me;
It's beyond my comprehension.
The Almighty, Creator of the world,
Gives to me such full attention.
Oh, how numberless Your thoughts to me!
Oh, how marvelous You care for me!
Oh, how confident my soul can be
For I am ever on Your mind!

Little lilies flourish in the open field.
Little birds will gather food for every meal.
If the plants You clothe and if the birds You feed,
Oh, to think that I am valued more than these!
