

Give Me Eyes That See

Words and Music by Heidi Fuller

My eyes can see the beauty of a sunbeam's golden ray.
I see the mass of color on a breezy autumn day.
I savor the appearance of a flower's fresh bouquet,
But could I still see clearly if God took my sight away?

God, give me eyes that see Your matchless goodness in the plan You made for me,
Eyes that see the love that kept Your Son on Calvary's tree,
Eyes that see the Spirit's power to live triumphantly.
Open my vision, Lord, and give me eyes that see.

I use my eyes each day to meet my life's demands.
I see the fruit that labor's buy, both the small things and the grand.
I watch my little boy grow from a baby to a man,
But without sight, could I still be content in Jesus' hand?
